

THERE ARE MANY OUTSTANDING BOOKS ON Ferrari, but few that should be a part of every enthusiast's library. This is one of the those must have books.

Sharknose Ferraris were a turning point in Ferrari history, a shooting star in the firmament of legendary Ferraris. Not only were they Ferrari's first mid-engine Formula One and sports racing cars, they were spectacularly successful, stunningly stylistic, and set the stage for Ferrari's later mid-engine V12s.

Mauro Forghieri, legendary Ferrari engineer, relates in the preface, "The Ferrari 156 with its characteristic nose and elegant body shape is a milestone in the sixty-five-year history of Ferrari Formula One cars. Its unique design and its fascinating story let the Sharknose become an icon amongst the Grand Prix cars."

Over four hundred color and black-and-white images capture the glory of the Sharknose Ferraris, supplementing an excellent text covering everything you would want to know: background, race-by-race history, technical specifications, and brief, but well-done biographies of the drivers (Hill, von Trips, Ginther, Gendebien, Mairesse, Bandini, Baghetti, the Rodriguez brothers, Ireland, Parkes, and Scarfiotti), designers (Dino Ferrari, Jano, Chiti, Fantuzzi, Forghieri), and sporting directors (Tavoni, Dragoni).

Well written and beautifully produced, this book captures an essential part of Ferrari history. It belongs in the library of everyone who appreciates that history. |||

SHARKNOSE V6
Ferrari 156, 246 SP,
and 196 SP

BY Jörg-Thomas Fädisch
AND Rainer Rossbach
Hardcover with slipcase
Text in English and German 353 black-and-white
and 75 color images
11.4 x 11.4in, 432 pages
McKlein Publishing
PUBLISHED 2019
ISBN 978-3-947156-24-5
$200 FROM
www.cortechbooks.com